NEWSLETTER JULY / AUGUST 2009

COMING UP

Binsey Fete

Please note the Binsey fete is 12-5pm in Binsey on SUNDAY 19th July, not Saturday as advertised elsewhere. Traditional fete activities. Everyone welcome.

The West Oxford Academy

From Susan Hutchinson: The West Oxford Academy will soon be entering its fourth year. But it will only happen if people volunteer to give talks. If you have a subject you'd like to share with a friendly audience then please contact me.

Last year Island residents have given fascinating talks on a wide range of subjects including the archaeology of Sark, the life of a freelance photographer, the molecular language of the immune system, the history and politics of Zanzibar, using the immune system to fight tumours and finally a very entertaining talk on why we should remove arcane pronunciation and grammar from the English language.

We meet at the community centre cafe on Tuesday evenings between 8pm and 9pm for two eight week terms starting in October and January. The talks – all by local residents – last up to 20 minutes and are followed by a discussion and wine.

If you want to know more or would like to give a talk please contact me by email (allat42@gmail.com) or give me a ring on 792358. Susan Hutchinson

NEWS AND VIEWS

WOCAMP: The Probation Centre in Mill Street

From Richard Thurston: As residents know, the committee decided to ballot residents on their attitude to the WOCAMP campaign as we did not believe it right for OIRA to take a position on this without doing so. Anecdotally, we were aware of strong feelings on the subject with a lot of support but also some negative feelings. The ballot bore this out. Some 29% of households voted and 93.75% of those supported WOCAMP's campaign, but there were also some strong feelings against the campaign. We have tried to respect the balance of views (disinterested, strongly for and strongly against) by making a small donation of £75, a small proportion of our reserves.

A BIT OF FISHY HISTORY

The new fishing season is upon us so I'm repeating this article which appeared in the newsletter some time ago.

From Dave Horner: The most common fish we see around the Island are chub. These are the ones that can be seen in shoals from West Street (near the Hollybush). They can grow up to 10lbs in weight, although the biggest ones you see from West Street are no more than 2lbs. Mrs Beeton, the Victorian cookery writer wrote: 'It is a river-fish, and resembles the carp, but is somewhat longer. Its flesh is not in much esteem, being coarse, and, when out of season, full of small hairy bones. The head and throat are the best parts. The roe is also good'. This description did not deter some Eastern European anglers I spotted, taking a chub from the West Street stretch, and obviously destined for their supper.

If you are planning to fish for your supper I suggest signal crayfish introduced into England and Wales in the late 1970s and early 1980s for farming purposes but which subsequently escaped into the wild. They are caught very easily. Tie a piece of fatty meat to a line of cotton, drop it into the river, and when you feel a tug slowly retrieve the line. You should have a juicy crayfish attached, which can then be prised off and put in a bucket of fresh water. Once you have your bucketful you will need to change the water several times, before cooking them as you would cook lobster or mussels.

Other fish, which you might spot, are:

Pike: lead solitary lives, hiding patiently and well-camouflaged in snags, weed or reeds waiting for their prey. They have tremendous surges of speed, with the dorsal and anal fins set well back near the tail, enabling the fish to propel itself from its ambush site with frightening speed. There are several documented cases of pike choking to death after attempting to eat another pike of almost the same size as themselves, the bigger pike (all females) are well known to turn to scavenging. They will take dead, dying, or diseased fish and so fulfil a vital role in maintaining a healthy fishery. Stories abound of pike that devour dogs, ducks and swans, and while there is little truth in these, pike do on occasion take ducklings, rats, and voles. It should be stressed however, that these make up less than 1% of their total food intake.

Perch: They are the ones with a spiky dorsal fin and are striped (yellow and black). They can migrate vast distances, and their fertilised eggs are often carried, by birds, to other rivers and lakes, where they become the first fish to colonise a new water. They are voracious feeders and are often caught by mistake by fly fisherman.

PEOPLE

Wanted! Oxfordshire mothers c. 1970-1990

I am researching women's experiences of motherhood from c. 1970-90, in Oxfordshire. I am looking to speak with women (in person or by phone) who were living in or around Berkshire and Oxfordshire when their children were young from the late 1960s to the early 1990s, so that I can find out first-hand what it was like to be a mother at this time. I would be extremely grateful to hear from anyone who would like to talk to me. If you would be interested in helping, please contact me as below.

Angela Davis, Department of History University of Warwick, Coventry Tel. 07751925945 angela.davis@warwick.ac.uk

Simon and Herietta Woolf and their daughters Chiara and Sofia of South St are moving towards Banbury at the end of July. We would like to thank fellow Islanders for helping to make out four years we have lived here such happy ones.

... And we are sorry to lose you! Good luck from us all. Ed.

As you may already know Fr. Russell is leaving us for a new Parish in Ewell, Surrey. I'm sure you will all want to wish him the best of luck. Fr. Russell has, in his tenure, instigated a complete renovation of the church organ and the much needed provision of a toilet. These are no minor matters and we are very grateful for his effort. If you would like to say farewell to Russell, the Church is organising a leaving lunch for him. For further details contact Anne James: riverbank26@tiscali.co.uk or tel. 725906.

From Fr. Russell: I am going to be moving to a new parish in the autumn: the Bishop of Guildford has asked me to be Vicar of Ewell. It will be a real wrench to leave Osney and I would like to thank all who have made me so welcome here over the past four years. My last service at St Frideswide's will be at 10.30am on 13th September.

MONEY MATTERS

Open Gardens

From Fiona McFarlane The weather tried to beat Open Gardens but didn't quite manage it and the event made a profit of £320. Many thanks to everyone who worked so hard to make it a success... and if anyone is short of two tupperware type containers used for collecting cash, then please reclaim from me at 11 South Street!

Subscriptions

By this time of year most of the subscriptions are in. Thanks to everyone who has contributed to the total of £280 so far, including those who generously volunteered extra. This is our most reliable source of funds for the Newsletter and website (not being contingent on the weather!). If you haven't got round to it yet, and can't find the envelope, please feel free to pop £2 or 50p concessions, per household, in any envelope marked with your address through the door at 11 South Street.

St Frideswide's

From Fr. Russell Many thanks to those who contributed to our Christian Aid coffee morning, which raised over £200 for Christian Aid's development work, and to those who contributed to our church appeal on Gift Day for which we raised over £1500. We expect the organ restoration to be complete in August and the new loo extension is expected to be completed soon. Watch this space for a series of recitals.

Services at St Frideswide's continue as usual over the summer: 10.30am parish mass every Sunday, and a simple said mass at 7pm on Tuesdays and 12.30pm on Thursdays. Do please get in touch with any queries. Fr Russell - rdewhurst@mac.com tel 01865 242680.

BITS AND BOBS

The Hollybush

From Ricky and Kate of the Hollybush: The Holly Bush has a NEW Spring Menu together with a NEW Chef! We are Back to opening at mid day every day throughout the summer!

An Island in Oxford

The Osney Society produced a 60 page illustrated booklet about the Island for the Millennium - history, housing, people on the Island and lots more. We thought this was sold out, but 5 copies have surfaced and it is still a very good read. Available for £3 each from Fiona McFarlane - call 201334 to arrange purchase while stocks last!

OIRA website

The new website is live! The address is www.osneyisland.co.uk

Freebie

Free: a tumble drier, Bosch, several years old but works well. Tel. 01865 721695.
