COMING UP

Jazz on the Towpath

This summer's event is Jazz on the Towpath on Saturday, June 21 @ 2- 6 pm running as a warm-up to WOBFest. Pete Marsh will be playing and there will be teas, an egg throwing contest, the slo-mo bike race, the inter street tug-o-war and plant stalls. BUT we need more music especially young people's bands. Is there anyone out there who would be willing to play? We also need offer of plants, cakes and people to man the tea and plant stalls. Please contact Joyce Chalmers on 240348 homeinoxford@virginmedia.com or Maureen Ergenelli on 244480 maukie24@me.com if you can help. If you would like to run your own stall (cost £5 per stall) please contact Joyce.

WOBFest

From David Jeffrey: On the evening of Saturday June 21 the Community Centre will play host to the annual West Oxford Beer Festival (or WOBFest, as we like to call it). Now in its fourth year, this mini-festival will feature a range of local ales, with other refreshments and entertainment. As we get closer to the date more details, including the full list of beers, will be posted on our website: www.wobfest.co.uk In previous years WOBFest has been a great success, bringing together local residents for an enjoyable evening, whilst raising money for local causes. Tickets for this year's WOBFest will go on sale from the first of April, priced five pounds each. Your ticket gains you entry to WOBFest, and the price includes a commemorative pint glass for you to keep. Entrance will be by ticket only. You will be able to purchase tickets from local outlets and from our volunteers (look out for our posters when they go up!) or by contacting us direct by emailing: david@wobfest.co.uk Alternatively you can send us a message via our Facebook page (just search for WOBFest). If you click on the "like" button you will get all our updates. Please also get in contact if you are interested in helping out - selling tickets, pouring pints, or by becoming a beer sponsor, either corporate or individual. Without our sponsors and volunteers WOBFest would not be possible. We look forward to seeing you and your friends for what promises to be another great evening.

ISLAND NEWS

On Monday 7 April Simon Collings and Richard Thurston from Osney Island attended a reception hosted by David Cameron at 10 Downing Street for volunteers who had been active during the recent flooding. The group from west Oxford, accompanied by Nicola Blackwood MP, included Nick Hills from Earl Street, Pupinder Singh Ghatara who runs the Botley Road pharmacy and Charlie Gee from Medley Manor Farm. Richard and Simon were invited because of the work Oxford Flood Alliance has done with the Environment Agency to improve flood defences and response in this area. Photos of the event are at: <http://tinyurl.com/pqjket>

A regular whimsical slot from Jane Buekett of South St
Sweet as summer

Every year as we pass the end-of-summer landmarks — the Last Night of the Proms, the schools going back, St Giles Fair — I dread the winter ahead of us. And then, when it comes - the short dark days, the threat of gales or snow or fog, the frost on the windscreen — I am just in it, and it is life.

And each year the spring hurtles by way too fast. The blossom comes and goes and I wish I could stop time at some perfect week in April or early May when the air smells new and everything is full of promise.

On almost the longest day last summer I sat in my kitchen late in the evening working on my laptop. My day had been crammed with meetings, I had cycled frantically home from an event in east Oxford, and now, in the only quiet moment of the day, with the cool air drifting in the back door, I was catching up on work emails. When I glanced up from that mesmerising computer-screen glow, I saw that everything outside — the sky, the walls, the air — was suffused with pink. I stepped out of the back door into sweet stillness, and on my neighbour's chimney a blackbird sang and sang and sang.

Water willows and weeping

From Julia Hamer Hunt: The west side of Bridge Street extension is the lowest part of the island. It is the part of the island to flood first. Historically, this has always been the case. If in doubt refer to Malcolm Graham's The Changing Faces of West Oxford published in 1998. I knew Bridge Street extension houses were prone to flooding when I bought my property almost 14 years ago. I have no regrets. I enjoy a privileged and wonderful position in Oxford: ten minutes walk from the colleges and museums; and not ten steps from my canoe where once a hedgehog took refuge from rising waters. On occasion I sit in the kitchen and watch a heron standing motionless seeking a chubb for its supper. In winter the water is high. I sit watching ducks surfing the racing torrent. On other days too many Macdonald burger boxes, plastic Coke bottles and other man-made detritus drift past if I am not sufficiently swift to catch them in my fishing landing net.

What can I do? What can you do?

I am offering to help anyone on Osney Island who would like to enhance their garden to encourage wildlife of all sorts, shapes and sizes. My front garden is 10 ft x 4 ft; the back 16 ft x 16 ft together they host more than 100 species of plants — all chosen for their perfume, food value and/or cover for wildlife. There is room for more flora — and fauna. Minimum maintenance has been a key consideration. I am growing older, have several plates of armour in my body, and bones that are too porous for my liking. I have within the limitations of my ability and my pocket done everything I can to reduce the risk of flooding and provide a sanctuary for our hard-pressed neighbours: wing-ed, four-footed, two-footed, and finned. The alternative — a graveled or paved garden providing soakaway, but no sanctuary or sustenance to our friends and neighbours; walls and solid fences ensuring that they cannot escape or find sanctuary and the water cannot move and flow. Trapped within our self-imposed castles we forget at our peril that both the walls of Jericho and Berlin came crumbling down. We are creating an aesthetic wasteland that diminishes us all.

There is £200 available to purchase indigenous sapplings, shrubs and plants. These I will purchase from nurseries to help anyone who wants to make Osney Island not just a community but also a habitat rich in fauna and flora.

If you are interested and would like a hand or to help please email Julia.HamerHunt@gmail.com; drop a note through the letterbox of 57 Bridge Street or telephone 01865 580330. I look forward to hearing from you.

St Frideswide with Binsey

The Revd Clare Sykes is the Rector for the Anglican parish of St. Frideswide and St Margaret's Binsey. You can contact her on 242345 or revclare@btinternet.com.

St Frideswide Renewal Programme

Over the past ten years, the St Frideswide's church building has been improved by installing toilets, kitchen area, new flooring and renovating the organ. The church community now wants to begin a final phase of improvement to make the building accessible and comfortable for wider community use as well as Sunday worship. We need the help and support of the wider community in order to preserve this building for the benefit of current and future residents of this neighbourhood. Progress is being made with the heating.

Choir looking for new members

One of the joys of the Sunday services at St Frideswide's church is the music. We are very fortunate to have a talented choir that contributes so much. If you would like to join in, please contact Paul Spencer-Longhurst at spencerlonghurst@btinternet.com. A short practice takes place on a Sunday morning from 10.00-10.25 am.

BITS AND BOBS

Litter issues

From Louise Summers Yesterday in the high winds on Bridge Street lots of lids blew off bins full of materials for recycling. Plastic bottles, bags, papers, etc. etc. were flying all over the place. It happens on a lesser scale most recycling days, and however much some of us pick up, lots goes under the cars and stays there for ages, getting soggy in the gutter or drying out and blowing around another day. Could I suggest something? A half brick placed on top of the recycling box lid works wonders.

Congratulations

to Dominic and Nazeem on the birth of their daughter Valiyeh — a very welcome addition to North Street.

Newspaper deliveries

Would you like your newspapers delivered? Mr Patel of Court Candy Shop, 65 Woodstock Road is keen to deliver. Call him on 515506.

Nappies anyone?

Can anyone use some baby kit that our growing grandchildren have left well behind ... unopened pack of Pampers 5+, 13-27 kg junior plus nappies, plastic bath chair for newborns, a microwaveable sterilising kit? We'd love this stuff to do someone else a good turn now. Pauline & Noel Martin, 01865 250870

THE DIRECTORY

The following list is compiled from Islanders recommendations only. No one pays for an entry and suppliers are removed if there are reports of unreasonable rates or service. Before recommending that someone is removed, sort the issue out between you and the supplier first – someone's livelihood is at stake. In this newsletter, we have removed someone who installed gas alliances incorrectly – potentially very dangerous. Make sure you use the most up to date list!

Newcomers often like to tell other about their services so we are starting a new spot 'Blow your own trumpet' where you can do just that. If your services is then independently recommended it will go in Tried and Tested.

OIRA COMMITTEE

We are very sorry to lose Karen Brooks who masterminded the Osney Olympics and Vicky Waters who have both moved off the Island. However we welcome Maureen Ergenelli, a long term resident who at long last has been persuaded to join the Committee after years of successfully avoiding it.

Meanwhile, we would welcome more people on the committee – particularly young people. At the recent OIRA AGM there were several requests for events but no one was willing to help organise them. Not to put too fine a point on it, if we don't have more manpower events will cease.
